FAMILY BARRICADED IN HOUSE TO ESCAPE CANNED HEAT ADDICT

JUDGE SILVA FINES DECOTO BOOTLEGGER

JOSEPH COLONA, proprietor of a pool hall in Decoto, was arraigned before Judge Joseph A. Silva, August 4, on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor.

Colona plead guilty to the charge against him, and after hearing the case Judge Silva imposed a fine of $150. George Henningser was the arresting officer.

Mrs. J. W. Myers Protects Children From Crazed Intruder

An unrestrained desire for canned heat has kept "Blackie", as he is known to local police, behind the bars most of the time, according to police records on file here.

But, Blackie owes his life today to the timidity of a woman, Mrs. J. W. Meyers, who barricaded herself and three children in the family home for nearly three hours yesterday morning, while she vainly phoned for police. According to officers, Blackie was released from jail Tuesday, after having completed a 90-day sentence for a similar act.

Mrs. Meyers, who has not as yet sworn to a complaint against the man, stated that he attempted to enter her home by force when she refused to give him something to eat, and for nearly three hours he remained near the door, threatening to force his way into the room and assault Mrs. Myers and the children. The man was crazed with dope or canned heat and made violent threats upon their lives.

All attempts to locate an officer had failed until noon, when Mrs. Meyers' sister, Mrs. Virginia Burrington, reporter on the Register, went to her assistance and aided in locating Constable Tom Silva of Centerville, who took Blackie back to jail to await formal charges, which are expected to be filed this afternoon. However, in the meantime, local telephone operators had gotten Ed. Rose, local garage owner, to respond to the cry for help and he had gone to the Meyers residence just ahead of Officer Silva.

Another victim of the canned heat jag was reported by local police to have been taken into custody at the same time. He was found prostrate in a local camp ground. So thoroughly was he saturated with the intoxicant he was unconscious and officers were unable to obtain his name or address. He was taken to jail and will probably be charged with disturbing the peace, arresting officers stated.

FUNERAL SERVICES SATURDAY MORNING FOR MRS J. GODWIN

Thursday afternoon Mrs. J. H. Godwin, mother of Mrs. J. E. Townsend, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. S. Horne, in Burlingame. Funeral services were held in that city Saturday, and the remains were laid to rest in Cypress Lawn cemetery, San Francisco.

Mrs. Godwin suffered a stroke about a year and a half ago, and since then she had been in extremely delicate health due to a weakened constitution. An attack of heart failure is said to have been the cause of death. At the time of death, Mrs. Godwin was seventy-one years of age.

The deceased is survived by a husband, John H. Godwin, and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Townsend of Niles, and Mrs. L. S. Horne of Burlingame.

TRAVELING with COB

Article 3 - - Year 1930

A third summer subscription campaign was completed by COB this year with many new subscribers added to the circulation roll of the Township Register. Again COB and his pair of dogs covered all of the communities in Washington township. This summer for two weeks, Cob was in business for himself, handling the campaign and paying for premiums that were given to those who took the Register which is one of the best weeklies in the state.

Monday, July 21, was spent in San Francisco purchasing premiums, such as bread knives, mixing bowls, tea sets and bridge sets. The campaign opened with a bang Tuesday morning with H. Zimmerman, Irvington meat market proprietor, taking the paper for a year. E. E. Carroll, Southern Pacific agent in Irvington, renewed his subscription, as did O. Hirsch, real estate broker in that town. Into the dentist office of Dr. J. H. Durham we went and received a renewal from the doctor. Frank Azeveda, Jr., of the Irvington meat market, received a card set with his new subscription. We then went to Irvington's largest factory, Reid Brothers, manufacturers of antiseptic furniture. Mr. Walters, superintendent, wrote us a check for his renewal.

C. H. Clements, owner of Tysonville, was our first subscriber Wednesday morning. Mrs. Clements showed us the new addition being built for them and told us of their desire to make friends in this district as they have just recently moved here from Willows. Mrs. Antone Avilla was the next person to subscribe, and she received a set of five green glass mixing bowls. Mrs. M. Furtado, prominent Centerville matron, gladly took the paper for all of the news which it contains weekly about Centerville. She took a green bridge set to match her tea room in her newly constructed home. Miss Mary S. Dias, Centerville grammar school teacher, also subscribed. We then went to the station and short order house next to the grammar school and received a subscription from P. L. Childers, the new owner. His wife chose a tea set for her premium.

Thursday morning Mrs. Fern Mitte, district grand president of the Rebekahs, renewed her subscription. Mrs. Joseph G. Fereira, of Niles, took the paper as soon as approached as she had wanted

First Day of State Fair Will Be Devoted To The Event

Newspaper men of California, other Western states and the Central and South American countries will gather at the California State Fair in Sacramento August 30th, the opening day of the big exposition. They will be guests of the State Agricultural Society and Governor C. C. Young. The day has been designated "Press Day" in their honor.

The program includes a luncheon at which Governor Young, Lyman M. King, director of the state department of finance, and R. A. Condee, president of the State Fair, will be speakers. A section of the grand stand will be set aside for the newspaper men during the afternoon racing and entertainment program, and in the evening they will be guests at the State Fair horse show.

The executive committee and Los Angeles and San Francisco governing boards of the California Newspaper Publishers Association have scheduled a joint meeting at the Fair on "Press Day."

"The newspapers have been a great factor in building the California State Fair to a point where it is classed with the best expositions in America," said President Condee, "and it will be a real pleasure to have the publishers as our guests."

CONTRACTS LET ON SPECIAL WORK FOR SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

Washington Union High School Gym Among The Best

Board of Trustees of Washington Union High School met recently and let contracts for special work on the new gymnasium for the school which is now under construction. Bids were then sent to the district attorney for approval.

A contract for wiring and lighting was awarded to the Newark Electric company; one to the Building Specialties company of San Francisco for installation of shower stalls, and the M. S. Moaning company of San Jose received contract for installing a heating system.

This building when completed will be one of the best of its kind in school circles and is so arranged that it can be easily converted into an auditorium with seating capacity for 2,000 people. This is one of its most attractive features as it assures the public ample room for any gatherings that may be held in it. This will be especially convenient for commencement exercises as already the old school auditorium has been outgrown.

Bids submitted by successful bidders on work aforementioned were under estimates made by the architect B. Clark, of Palo Alto, who drew all the building plans.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Mrs. Glen R. Mohn, of Niles Canyon, entertained a large group of friends and relatives at a birthday party at her home Tuesday in honor of the second birthday of her small daughter, Greta Ellen.

The table decorations and favors were in pale pink and yellow. Miss Greta received many lovely gifts and the best wishes of all those present.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

By NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

WHAT OF THE THREE?

WITH THE PRIMARY ELECTION but three weeks off—an event settling definitely the governorship, as well as other state offices—it is about time that newspapers, as well as individuals, take a positive stand politically—a duty to the great institutions that they are. To remain silent, at least on the gubernatorial contest, is to admit lack of courage. Certainly a choice between the three candidates can be made. Relatively speaking, one of the three must represent, in at least a small degree, something good in government which a newspaper or an individual stands for in official life.

The Township Register is not enthusiastic over any one of the candidates for governor of California. It is really a difficult task to give editorial endorsement in the pending contest.

Fitts, until he became a creature of Harry Chandler, publisher of the Los Angeles Times—an organ standing for everything reactionary in state and national politics, whose editor worships no god but the almighty dollar—has made gold his master—has stiffled every humanitarian impulse is his mad scramble for wealth—has tried to ruin the industrious men and women of Imperial Valley that his holdings in Mexico might thrive the more—who works coolie labor under a virtual state of slavery on his baronial estate in Baja California—ridicules in his newspaper every noble effort to lift the masses to a higher plane of living; yes, until Fitts signed away his birthright to this feudalistic character he might have been a strong contender for the governorship, and if elected, an honest public official.

But now he is eliminated from serious consideration. His candidacy becomes, as each day passes, a political tragedy, and what might otherwise have been a bright career, rapidly passes into complete oblivion.

And what of Young?

A disappointment to his former friends and ardent supporters. Elected as a progressive, his administration is one of the most thoroughly boss-ridden, corporation-controlled regimes in the history of California state government. Taxation has mounted to a point where it is staggering. And still greater tax burdens are being devised by the horde of hangers-on that infest Sacramento. Commission after commission has been created by the Young crowd until now not even the most trivial business can be transacted without a permit, or an O. K. from some "simp" delegated with official power conferred by the governor of this state.

His parole board is a scandal, and the stench that it has emitted in unmerited paroles has reached to every corner of the nation. Strangely, not a single appointment to a high official position has given offense to public service corporations. Not an adverse corporation decision has been rendered by board or commission when the issue arose between capital and the poor devil who pays the taxes and keeps this state from bankruptcy in spite of the army of tax-eating hounds that has reached, statistics say, to a ratio of one man out of every eleven individuals in California. Think of it—one man out of every eleven on the public payroll!

Young has a corporation mind. Personally he believes in class government. The story is told quite reliably that it has pleased him greatly, the changed attitude of "big business" toward him shortly after his inauguration. When he went into office, he is reputed to have said, that capital had certain misgivings about his attitude toward the relative importance of vested wealth and just common everyday labor—the kind that you and I, simple folk that we are, perform in this great scheme of competitive life. Powerful interests four years ago thought that Young was not quite "safe."

A meeting of the Latter Day Saints will not be held in Irvington this year, according to an announcement made last week. This will be the first time in twenty-four years that such a meeting has not been held in this community.

The property where the old Irvington grammar school is located is owned by the church of the Latter Day Saints and here the church members always gathered, pitching tents for the week's stay while business affairs were dispatched and religious services attended.

CANDIDATES WITH SAME NAMES ARE CONFUSING VOTERS

A. J. Johnson, Los Angeles Negro, Seeks State Position

When you see the "(1)" before his name, you'll know you are voting for State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson.

Augustus J. Johnson, Los Angeles negro seeking the Republican nomination for State Treasurer against the incumbent, was placed in the race for no other purpose than to confuse voters by the similarity in names. Both men are known to their friends as "Gus" Johnson.

These statements were made by the Charles G. Johnson-for-Treasurer committee, which declared that it holds sworn affidavits in support of the charges. A statewide campaign to inform voters of this fact was anounced by the committee.

"We have no quarrel with Augustus Johnson because he is a colored man," said the committee. "This is a free country, and any citizen has a right to seek office, regardless of his race, color or previous condition of servitude.

"But when a candidate deliberately permits his name to go on the ballot to trick the voters by reason of the similarity of his name and that of the incumbent official, we feel that such political trickery should be repudiated by fair-minded voters.

"Consequently, we invite every voter who believes that State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson has done a good job during the 8 years in office, and that he should be reelected, to watch closely for the mark "(1)" in front of his name on the ballot and cast their vote accordingly.

"State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson has been able to earn $15,000,000 in interest on state funds during his service since 1922. He has been able to sell bonds at premiums aggregating more than $609,000. He has the unqualified endorsement of more than 200 leading bankers and financial leaders of California.

"If these facts count for anything, the present state treasurer deserves the support of every thinking citizen, and he should be returned to office by an overwhelming majority."

Alameda County Wins Prize With 1930 Advertising Plan

Alameda county's 1930 national advertising campaign published in newspapers exclusively, was awarded first prize at the annual convention of Pacific Advertising Clubs Association held at Spokane, according to the announcement made here today by Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond.

Advantages Stressed

The county campaign was created and placed by James Houlihan, Inc., under the supervision of the Board of Supervisors. The copy stressed Alameda county's advantages for industrialists, agriculturist and homeseekers.

The schedule included New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Detroit and other eastern metropolitan dailies. Residents were told of the many advantages of their district and urged to advise eastern and middle-western friends of what Alameda county had to offer as an industrial, agricultural and residential territory.

Campaign Successful

"Our 1930 campaign has been the most successful advertising effort ever conducted for the county," said Supervisor Richmond. "I attribute much of its success to the fact that newspapers were used exclusively. In my opinion the newspapers of the country are today playing a more important part in bringing prosperity to the nation than ever before."

Wins First Prize

"It was gratifying to learn that the campaign of Alameda county, run exclusively in newspapers, won the recognition of severe critics and stern judges at the Pacific Advertising Clubs Association annual convention. This is the first time that the efforts of the Board of Supervisors have won recognition in the field of advertising and I know that all the members of the Board will join with me in a united effort to make the next campaign productive of even greater public recognition."

1¢ a meal — to cook with electricity

And the electric range costs no more than any good range

Electric cooking has an aristocratic "atmosphere."

However, fine "atmosphere" should not mislead any one from true dollar-and-cents facts. Here they are:

You can cook a complete meal for four people with 4c worth of electricity. In addition, the price of an electric range itself is no more than any good range.

And how the electric range improves cooking! — and gives you more time for out-of-the-kitchen activities. For electric cooking can be entirely automatic. After a meal is placed in the oven, you never have to watch it — or baste the meat. Moreover, the electric range is the "keynote" for a beautiful, clean kitchen.

Today's electric range has Improved Cooking Elements, 29 to 50% speedier. Fully enameled Rust-Proof Oven. Smokeless Broiler Pan. Smooth Porcelain Enamel which wipes clean easily. Cooker Pot. Automatic Oven Temperature Control, and a Special Time Clock for automatically turning the oven current on and off while you're away.

Come into our office or a dealer's store and see the fine new electric ranges. And remember, modern electric cooking IS economical.

MOTORISTS ARRAIGNED IN CENTERVILLE JUSTICE COURT FOR FAST DRIVING

Judge Allen G. Norris Imposes Heavy Fines On Offenders

Four men were arraigned before Judge Allen G. Norris in the Centerville Justice Court Tuesday on charges of speeding and driving on the left hand side of the highway. Those arrested were William Kolb, of Berkeley, for speeding; Anthony Soares, of Oakland, for speeding; N. Hiro, of Oakland, speeding, and T. B. Dallas, of San Jose, for driving on the left side of the highway.

After hearing the cases, Judge Norris imposed fines on the offenders as follows: Kolb $5; Soares, $20; N. Hiro, $10, and Dallas, $15.

Several cases similar to the above have been heard at Centerville court recently, and fines were imposed by Judge Norris. The majority of these arrests were made close to Centerville or between Centerville and Alvarado on the highway. Traffic officers are patrolling highways constantly in an effort to reduce the number of accidents resulting from fast or careless driving that causes high mortality and disfigurement or injuries for life among motorists as well as pedestrians.

C. H. BLISS TELLS OF NASH SALES IN PAST MONTH

Deliveries of new Nash automobiles during the first week in July in the ten American cities which registered the highest comparative Nash sales for the period were 32 percent above those made during the previous week it was announced today by C. H. Bliss, sales manager of the Nash Motors company.

He added that sales of Nash cars in these "high ten" cities through that holiday week were the second highest since the week ending August 17, 1929, and that the totals may be considered an encouraging showing. "New York led in the number of Nash deliveries made to start the month of July," he said; "Chicago was seconed, Boston third, Pittsburgh fourth and San Francisco fifth. Cleveland, Los Angeles, Milwaukee and New Orleans were next in order with Philadelphia and Baltimore tied in last place. The Pittsburgh organization delivered exactly as many cars during the week as during the corresponding week a year ago.

"Another interesting sales report comes from Milwaukee where new car registrations during the month of June shows Nash in third position among all cars sold in the city and county of Milwaukee; Nash registrations being exceeded only by those of Ford and Chevrolet."

Edward George, Centerville Nash company owner, reports that business is good and car sales mounting all the time. Mr. George has recently added two new salesmen to his force in preparation for the late summer and fall season.

COMMUNITY SANITARIUM PLANS FOR PLEASANTON PROGRESS, SAYS DIRECTOR

PLEASANTON MEN EXPECT TO GO TO REGIONAL COUNCIL

Invitation Has Been Extended to Citizens By Mayor Pickard

Pleasanton's 1,232 residents, according to 1930 census, were today invited through Mayor A. B. Pickard of that city to attend the opening session of the Pan American Reciprocal Trade Conference at Sacremento Memorial Auditorium on Sunday afternoon, August 24.

The program of the first meeting of the unofficial trade congress promises to be unique, according to the message received by Mayor Pickard from the sponsors of the conference. Spanish and Portugues languages will be used to interpret the address of welcome by Governor C. C. Young, while the responses of Latin American leaders will be interpreted into English.

Starting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the meeting will be opened by the Sacramento Region Citizens Council, sponsoring organization. Invocation follows with complete roll call of delegates from the various 22 American nations.

As governor of the state C. C. Young will welcome the distinguished guests to California and Mayor C. H. S. Bidwell will offer the hospitality of Sacramento to the delegates. Both addresses will be translated into Spanish and Portuguese, according to the tentative plans of the conference officials

Portuguese, Spanish and English speaking delegates will then respond to the addresses of welcome, and the first unofficial trade conference in the history of American commerce will be launched with the appointment of committee and round-table officers

System of Organization and Financing Has Been Worked Out.

That definite steps have been taken to organize and finance the Three Link Community hospital for Pleasanton, is the announcement made this week following a conference of officers and directors of that organization. The hospital, which for the past year or so has been operating at Livermore, will, under the new plan to be adopted, be brought to Pleasanton.

The system or organization and financing the hospital is said by those who have investigated, to be fundamentally sound and the need of such an institution for Amador valley has long been known to all the citizens of the community.

When completed and in operation the new hospital will be at the service of any one who needs ospitalization, and physicians and surgeons from any place will be permitted to work there.

It is announced that before the end of the week the tentative plans will be approved and a definite announcement of the program will be announced.

RANCHERS CLOSE PREMISES 3 YEARS TO QUAIL HUNTERS

Quail hunting in the Pleasanton section of Alameda county will be curtailed during the next three years, following action of ten of the largest land owners in closing their property to hunters. The land is to be made a game refuge under the protection of the California Fish and Game commission, according to Frank Fiorio, president of the Livermore Fish and Game Protective association.

Ranchers explain that the closing of the land to hunters is the result of a campaign which bears the endorsement of the majority of sportsmen of the county, and is for their benefit. California quail is being destroyed so rapidly that the Fish and Game commission has issued a warning that a closed season will be necessary unless the birds are given an opportunity to multiply.

Keddie—Bids will be called soon for construction of $10,000,000 railroad extension which Western Pacific railroad will build northerly from here.

Favorite Recipes of a Famous Chef

As Told to Anne Baker
By FREDERIC FRANCOIS GUILLOT
Chef, Hotel Astor, New York City

Two old favorites prepared in Mr. Guillot's special way are offered here for the consideration of the American housewife.

Chef Guillot

Virginia Beef Tongue—Scrub the tongue. Place in saucepan, cover with water, and cook slowly until tender. Meanwhile prepare one cup stewed currants. Add currants to one cup of the water in which tongue was cooked. Add one cup sugar, one-fourth cup butter, one tablespoon cloves, and one-half lemon, sliced. Simmer tongue in this sauce for fifteen minutes. Place on serving dish with the sauce. Garnish with slices of lemon, and serve.

Scalloped Onions—To one quart strained, cooked tomatoes add two tablespoons flour, one tablespoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Simmer for fifteen minutes. Add two tablespoons butter. Halve eight medium-size onions and place in baking dish. Pour tomato sauce over onions, and bake for one hour in moderate oven.

Does "Everybody" Know Your Store?

FREDERICK W. BRIDGES, advertising manager of the Hamilton (Bermuda) Royal Gazette & Colonist Daily, says:

That ADVERTISING PAYS YOU, MR. SMALL-TOWN-MERCHANT, in as great proportion as the national advertiser, if conducted in a rational and business-like manner. It is a too-common attitude on the part of the small town storekeeper that everybody knows his store, is familiar with what he sells, and that his regular customers will buy from him regardless of what the other man is offering. There seems, therefore, to be no need to advertise.

There Is Nothing "Regular" About Public's Buying

That this idea is based on a shaky foundation is obvious to the person who stops to think, for it predicates "regular customers," and experience in all towns, large and small, has proved over and over again that there is nothing regular about the buying public. All human beings are creatures of impulse to a greater or lesser degree, and any one thing, it may be better service, or even the fact that a competitor knows the value of a smile at the time, may change YOUR regular into HIS; in short, there is but a hair-line distinction between the status of "regular" and "casual" customer, and the conversion of the latter into the former depends almost entirely on the use of advertising.

What can you offer that is better than your competitor's? Is is Courtesy? Advertise it! Is it a lower price on a staple article, due to careful buying? Advertise it! Is it a feature line which you handle exclusively? Advertise it! Is your store handy to carstops? Advertise it! Every day you have something which can beat, or is at least as good as the other fellow's, be it quality, price, service, courtesy, or what-have-you? Something has brought you your "regulars," but how many more can be brought in? Advertising will show you!

Your store is part of the community. How much of the community is part of your store? Unless there is a link between them your business may be average, but try the best link, advertising, and watch the results! Any special inducement you can offer is but the thin edge of the wedge, for every customer who comes in for your advertised line is a prospect for something you carry, and, once sold on your goods and your store will send his friends along.

BUT, IT ISN'T GOOD ENOUGH TO GET CUSTOMERS—YOU'VE GOT TO KEEP 'EM COMING, AND THE SUREST WAY IS TO ADVERTISE CONTINUOUSLY, and ADVERTISE INTELLIGENTLY.

Editorial Comment

NORMAN H. PARKS, Publisher Register

But now, it is reported, Young has boasted they admit their mistake and have accepted him and his family and initiated him into the order of the West's most exclusive.

The Register must admit that if the big interests had apprehensions at the beginning of the Young administration, these apprehensions have been dissipated. Young has stood without "hitching."

Progressive men and women had great faith in Young. They took off their coats and worked for his election against the insufferable Richardson. And now their disillusionment!

So it becomes a matter of elimination.

Next comes Rolph. Our only hope. We are for him because he is the best of the three. His record is good in San Francisco. The city enjoys the lowest tax rate of any major metropolis in America. It is singularly free from political corruption. It is ably governed.

Rolph himself is democratic in his ways. He is impartial toward political or religious creeds. He has lived close to the people. He has kept the city of San Francisco in the municipal railway business in spite of tremendous opposition of large corporations, whatever business they may be in, because they hate the principle of government ownership of public utilities. He is the one of the few who can "move with kings, and still retain the common touch." If elected governor of California, the Township Register believes he will bring back to the state some of the glory that it knew under the administration of Hiram Johnson. Rolph is "wet." This paper is "dry', a fact pretty well understood by the readers of this column. A peculiar position, one might say. It is. A difficult position. It is not to our liking. But the liquor issue is not the only issue. Besides, what can Rolph do to make California more moist? Nothing. Under the administration of Young, the state enforcement is a huge joke. The writer can buy liquor in any city, town, hamlet or cross-roads in the state of California. The prohibition agents seem to be paralyzed or blind, or both. Not even a gesture is made at closing the bootleg joints. And yet the Anti-Saloon League has endorsed that kind of business by making Young its candidate for governor. What a travesty on law enforcement!

** * **

Under Rolph, could it be worse? Hardly. It will be better, or we have misjudged the man. Therefore, after all, who will say the writer is inconsistent! We are accepting the lesser of three evils, with a firm faith that Rolph is by far the better man; and with a prayer that, if elevated to the governorship, he will bring the government back to the people, from which, under Young, it has strayed far, indeed.
